

United Steelworkers, AFL-CIO, Local 9265

"Union-Worker's Place"

By Jim Hair

The Labor Movement's Place has its foundation in the hard-fought right to organize and collectively bargain terms and conditions of employment. It was framed with the sacrifices that forced the eight (8) hour day and roofed with Labor Laws compelled by the unrelenting force of Organized Labor. The weekend windows were procured through the tenacity and diligence of the movement. This sanctuary was built with the blood, sweat and tears of courageous women and men who stood up against Goon-Squads, Federal Troops, Police, and the National Guard. Our Place, like any other, must be diligently maintained or it will deteriorate and ultimately collapse.

We designed T-Shirts and cards with a replica of the United Steelworkers' all inclusive representation of Unionized Workers which not only celebrates the diversity of gender and ethnicity, but that of the work itself. The five (5) Workers, although distinguished by their mutually exclusive professions are united, standing shoulder to shoulder, looking forward. Their Place, Your Place, Our Place is in the Union.

A Worker's Place is in their Union!